Students Receive Work, Job Training, Through Unique High School Program

A three-way program of aid to students in obtaining job training and work placement is being conducted at Campbell Union High School, through the business education department. Mr. George Kemp, business teacher, today issued an appeal to local businessmen and homeowners to assist in this coordinated school-community student assistance program.

First effort of the school's student employment program is to place senior students. Just before their graduation, seniors are interviewed by the teachers and are given instructions in interviewing employers. At this time the seniors are informed of locations of available jobs.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Second facet of the program is work experience. Here Campbell High School, one of the few on this coast, is a leader in preparing students for business careers. This is accomplished in a work-experience class for a group of the seniors who attend class half day and work the other half of each day and Saturday in Campbell and San Jose stores. Size of the class is limited to the number of jobs available to these students, since employment is part of the course. Here, the cooperation of the merchants is extremely important, Kemp said. Businessmen are urged to notify the school if they can provide part time employment for these students.

Third endeavor of the school is to assist pupils in obtaining jobs, where they require outside income to continue their schooling. The commerce department at the school, said Kemp, compiles lists of students who have applied for job placement, and contacts these when homeowners or businessmen call the school for student workers.

"Dependable students are available to do such work as lawn mowing, attic cleaning, house cleaning, garden work and other tasks for local homeowners," said Kemp. "When the students are given the opportunity to earn part of their livelihood, the experience helps them build up self reliance. They learn through working and earning their own money."

In all three phases of the program, the cooperation of merchants and citizens is vital to the success of the effort. Both the businessman and the housewife provide the necessary employment for the youngsters, Kemp pointed out, and urged that members of each group notify the school of jobs or employment available in their establishments or homes.

The plaintiff charged that his sister, Mrs. Gertrude E. Salisbury, took advantage of their father's weakened condition prior to his death last year to secure a joint tenancy deed from him to the property.

Smith remarked that the entire parcel went to Mrs. Salisbury after the death of their father. The plaintiff alleged that sometime prior to the death of M. J. # Patrol Fund $376.50

More Residents Send Their Donations, But Sum Still Below Year's Needs

Legion Patrol fund contributions climbed to $376.50 this week, as returns began to come in from 1000 more letters sent out to local residents Wednesday. The letters, like those mailed to other residents earlier in the month, explained duties and aims of the Volunteer Legion Patrol in Campbell, and told of need for voluntary contributions to chase general supplies and equipment, such as gasoline and side arms, and for upkeep of the patrol's car.

The total, to date, is considerably below that needed to equip and maintain the patrol for the year.

Latest contributors announced by Patrol Captain Jack Chappell were: H. M. Naylor, Miss Swan, Walker Vaughn, Jack Chamberlain, Ada Rebekah Lodge 273, Miss Luella Whitney, James McBride, Mr. O'Brien, William Penhall, Dr. Joseph C. Johannes, Florence and Elizabeth Kennedy, W. E. Dreisback and Martin S. Walsh. This was the latter's second contribution.

Every resident is urged by participating groups and individuals to join in supporting these volunteers who have stepped in to maintain law and order in this growing community, which would, otherwise, have to rely entirely upon infrequent surveillance by regular county law enforcement agencies which must patrol the entire unincorporated area in the county. The Legion Patrol works with these other agencies in providing fuller protection for local residents.

Public Invited To View Film Of Europe's DP Camps

Films of Displaced Persons camps in Europe, will be shown at the meeting of the Missionary Society of the Congregational Church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting, in the interests of the Displaced Persons Act, will feature the films to be shown by Mrs. Claude N. Settles of San Jose. She will give a talk, also, on the subject of Displaced Persons. This will be followed by a question period.

Professor C. N. Settles of San Jose State College, and Mrs. Settles traveled extensively in Europe last summer with a seminar study group led by Dr. Fisk of San Francisco. Special emphasis was placed on study of the DP camps visited by the travelers.

Following the meeting, light refreshments will be served. The public is especially invited to attend the meeting on a subject which is of great interest at this time.

High School Students Close Drive With Record Collection For Area

With a higher collection total than in any previous year, the 1950 March of Dimes was wound up recently by its sponsoring group, the Campbell Union High School student council. The high school students undertook the job of handling the drive for this area.

Grand total for the Campbell area was $1508.68, exceeding the $1,298 total for 1949, and considerably ahead of the 1948 receipts of $670.

High School Superintendent Laurance J. Hill was general chairman of the local drive.

Best Yet

Faculty advisor George Egling reported that there was more money in the collection boxes at local stores than last year. Outstanding in this field was that at Horace's Market, where the box was chock full of money. Operator Horace Alford has been a leader in store contributions in this and previous drives, frequently asking that customers who made purchases of bread and milk place their payment in the March of Dimes box on his counter instead of paying him for the food.

Cambrian Ahead

Cambrian Elementary School led the collections in the schools with a total of $300.67. Other school contributions were: Campbell Union High School, $180.81; Campbell Elementary School, $112.07; Moorpark Elementary School, $60.65; Moreland Elementary School, $27.66; San Tomas Elementary School, $20.60; and Union Elementary School, $8.57. Total school contributions was $711.03.

Breakdown of the high school's donation was: collections, $134; noon basketball, $13.26, and Fidae Tri-Y, $33.55.

From the Campbell Theater, came a collection of $25.47, while coin collectors in the local stores contributed $265.68.

Clubs and organizations contributing were: Kiwanis Club, $27.33; Sigma Sigma, $10; Job's Daughteors, $10; Odd Fellows, $6.87 and Campbell High School Parent-Teacher association, $10.80, making a total of $65 for this division.

Individual contributions brought in $4.50.

Total of contributions collected by the high school was $1071.68. This plus individual contributions mailed to San Jose, $435, made the grand total of $1506.68 for the Campbell area.

Campbell Teachers Association Hears Dr. W. G. Sweeney

Dr. William G. Sweeney of the San Jose State College faculty discussed "Teaching Today" recently when the Campbell Teachers Association convened at Campbell Grammar School. President of the group is Richard Gordon, Campbell music teacher.

The group has enjoyed many outstanding speakers in the past and will continue to invite noted personalities to their meetings. In January, the Campbell organization heard Godfrey Kinderman speak on "Europe Today." Kinderman is a student at Stanford University and a native Austrian.

Fred Glover, public relations director at Stanford, took over the speaking role for the February meeting. He spoke on "Teachers, Public and the Press."

The Campbell Teachers' Association, at their March 8th meeting, adopted the following resolution in favor of Federal aid to education:

"Inasmuch as our country is founded upon the premise that all men are created equal and hence should be provided with equal opportunity; we, the Campbell Teachers' Association, hereby desire to go on record as favoring House action on S-246 which provides Federal aid to education without Federal control."

Filming To Start On Movie Entitled 'Life In Campbell'

"Life in Campbell," a motion picture portraying everyday life in Campbell, is scheduled for a March 30, 31 and April 1 screen showing at the Campbell Theater, according to Harold Donner, theater manager.

Local organizations, churches and businesses will be put on film for the three night showing. Filming of the feature will commence Monday and finish on Saturday under the direction of photographer Bob Allen.

Campbell residents will have the opportunity to get a "bird's eye" view of the activities in the local community. A thrilling second feature will round out the movie bill on these three nights.

Auxiliary To Attend Dinner

Mrs. Rex Kaber, first vice-president of the Campbell unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, presided at the Wednesday night meeting of the group in the absence of President Mrs. William Burch.

Business included a report on the hospital program by Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, renabilitation chairman. Several members of the auxiliary have taken the orientation and indoctrination course in preparation for the training program, which entitles the members to become hospital workers.

During the month of February, the Campbell unit worked 42½ man hours at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital. Auxiliary members are scheduled to meet in the near future to make slippers for the women in the Palo Alto Hospital. The annoucement was made that the next ward party will be held on the evening of March 21.

The resolution adopted by the department executive committee was read by the legislative chairman, Mrs. Rex K. Fuller. This resolution supports the effort to attain world peace and asks that districts and units of the American Legion Auxiliary study the un-American world government movements and combat their insidious programs. Several members have written to senators and congressmen in support of the veterans hospital program and opposed cutting down of the veterans' administration.

By-laws of the Campbell unit were discussed and the first reading of revisions was presented in preparation for the final reading and vote on the changes.

The annual department president's dinner will take place Saturday night, March 25, at Loma Linda in Watsonville. Anyone wishing to attend the dinner is asked to make reservations as soon as possible with Mrs. William Burch. She can be contacted by calling Campbell 2757.

After the close of the meeting, unit members joined the Legion for a program and refreshments.

Next meeting of the Campbell Auxiliary will convene Wednesday March 22, at the Country Woman's clubrooms.

Breakfast Series For Lloyd Dollar

WSCS members are busily engaged in building their share of the Lloyd dollar, and one of the latest events in this program was a business luncheon served last week by four of the members to 60 men and women of the community who attended the public luncheon.

This morning the second of a series of five Friday breakfasts was served to members of Circle Two of the WSCS and their guests by Mrs. Lawrence Osborne and Mrs. Frank Richardson. The two will be co-hostesses for the breakfasts which are being held in the parsonage. One of the five WSCS Circles will be guests at each breakfast, and they are urged to invite friends to attend. Circle One members were guests last week.

Bright centerpiece arrangements of daffodils gave a gay touch to the first of the breakfasts, and 30 persons were served by Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Richardson. The breakfasters enjoyed fruit cup, delicious coffee, generous servings of scrambled eggs and delicious home made hot cross buns and cinnamon buns.

Teachers explained that use of phonics plays an important part in teaching of reading to grammar school primary groups, but that its role is less important in present methods compared to its use a few years ago.

First grade children learn to sight read until they have obtained a reading vocabulary of 50 words, after which they are taught the sounds of words and how to assemble them. First graders under direction of Mrs. Phoebe Davis, gave a reading demonstration to illustrate this point.

Meanings of prefixes and suffixes and the use of glossary and dictionary are taught fifth grade pupils and a group of fifth graders from Mrs. Ann Merdier's class demonstrated this study.

Those on the reading panel were Mesdames Ken Strong, LBen Howard, Faye Romano and Thais Ackerman, mothers, and Mesdames Margaret Singleton, Twila Smith, Dorothy Royce, Miss Harriet Johnson and Miss Ruth Metzker, teachers.

Mrs. L. W. Brown, president of the PTA unit, conducted the meeting. Mrs. William Ostermeier was the program chairman.

Robes for the glee club, purchased by the PTA unit, will be worn for the first time at the next unit meeting, April 11. There will be no PTA meetings during the Easter vacation period.

Music for the program was provided by Connie Silva and Marion Gould who presented a piano duet, and by Dwight Klassen, trombone soloist, who was accompanied by Miss Silva. Jimmy Lee Prout of the Camp Fire Girl Oa-wa-kk-ya Group, led the salute to the Flag. Mrs. Everett Nelson gave the inspirational.

Following the meeting, third grade mothers served refreshments in the cafeteria. Mrs. Patricia Hill's second grade won the award for mother attendance at the meeting.

Members of the Country Woman's Club convened Monday evening in bright South American costumes to hold their annual Men's Night dinner in the Campbell Methodist Church. Unusual table decorations admired by the group were created by Mrs. Dale Hansen and featured balloons filled with whimsical trifles and a gay scarf worn in the South American manner.

Mrs. Ricardo Villafuerte, dressed in an authentic Mexican costume, the China Pablana, set the mood of the evening with her singing of two Spanish songs, "The April Princess," and "The Swan."

Following the delicious South American meal, LBen Howard read a humorous selection and then acted as commentator for the awarding of prizes to members wearing outstanding headdresses.

Mrs. Ray Davis won the prize for the most unusual headdress with Mrs. E. R. Kennedy taking a prize for the smallest hat. J. R. Locke also received a prize for his huge sombrero.

Here's Opportunity To Save A Life By Donating Blood

Do you want to save a life? One pint of your blood and less than one hour of your time can mean life to a man, woman or child.

With this in mind, local residents are urged to be on hand when the Regional Blood Bank visits the Campbell area Wednesday, March 29. Budd Levenberg, blood procurement chairman for Campbell, reports the mobile unit will be here that day.

Several calls for blood have been received in Campbell during the past months, which means the blood supply is slowly diminishing. The blood bank has supplied these needs, but additional contributions are necessary to have a supply in the event of an emergency.

A regional blood service report states that in February, blood donations climbed to 739 productive donors, as compared to January's 724. However, this is still short of the record total of 856 pints for the month of November. The region is comprised of Monterey, San Benito, Santa Cruz and Santa Clara Counties.

Here's a challenge for Campbell women. In the region men donors greatly exceeded the women in February, with 576 male donors as compared to 163 female. So here's your opportunity, ladies, to contribute to this worthy cause.

Levenberg remarked that the receiving center probably will be located at the Methodist Church parish house on March 29. Your gift of blood will give someone in your community a better chance to live.

Report Activities During February

Volunteer Legion Patrolmen in Campbell put in 274 hours on duty during February, Captain Jack Chappell stated today in the monthly patrol report submitted to the office of County Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle.

During the month the patrolmen covered 851 miles on patrol duty. Fifteen men of the group served on traffic control for Old Settlers' Day, putting in 75 man hours from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Rex Kaber controlled traffic at a wreck at Hamilton and Los Gatos Road last week for one hour while the California Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Bertha P. Page, Pioneer Resident, Passes Away

Mrs. Bertha Phelps Page, widow of the late George W. Page, died Wednesday at Palo Alto Hospital, at the age of 79. A native of Ohio, she had made her home in Campbell for many years, and had moved to Palo Alto only recently. Her husband, who died on August 26, 1941, was an early resident of this community. He and his wife lived in the house which he built on Winchester Road at the Budd Avenue intersection. The house still stands. Mr. Page was the builder of Page Dam on Los Gatos Creek at Casey Road.

Private funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. from the Rutherford Funeral Home, Campbell, followed by interment at Los Gatos Cemetery.

Mrs. Page leaves her two daughters, Mrs. Marie Cleaves of New York, N.Y., and Mrs. Edwina Enzminger of Palo Alto, and a son, Earl Page of San Francisco. She was a member of Pundita Circle of Campbell and the Country Woman's Club.

Judge Blaine To Support Kuntz In Justice Race

Judge John D. Blaine, retiring Justice of the Peace of Campbell township, stated this week that he will support candidate Raymond Kuntz in the forthcoming election for Justice.

Kuntz met recently with retiring Judge Blaine and stated that it was "easy to understand how he has won the high regard of the community he has so faithfully served over the years.

"If elected to office," Kuntz said, "I only trust that as his successor, my honesty and integrity of office will also earn the same high esteem from the people of our township. If elected I propose to make it a full time duty free of any outside interests."

Kuntz also urged that all qualified voters be sure to register. Registration at the G. E. Farley office in Campbell will close on April 13, which is the last day voters may register to be eligible for the June 6 election.

OUR FLAG!

"Three cheers for the Red, White and Blue." When we sing those stirring words at home, at school, as a parade passes, or whatever the occasion, let's pay more than merely lip service to the Grand Old Flag! Poems have been written for Old Glory. Statesmen have eulogized its immortality. Soldiers on battlefields throughout the world have died for it. It flies majestically night and day over the White House. It is the blessed Flag of Freedom and stands for all the things we hold dearest. Honor the Flag that is the signature of our country and fly it proudly in your heart!

Roosevelt, Eleanor.
THIS I REMEMBER

Mrs. Roosevelt continues her autobiography begun in "This Is My Story; the present volume covers the period beginning shortly before Franklin Roosevelt's first term as governor of New York and ending after his death. Thus an important era is reflected in reminiscences which add much to our knowledge of the former president, and also of most of the important people and events of recent times. Glimpses of life in the White House are intimate and charming, and countless new details are added to the story of the United States in its contacts with a warring world. Mrs Roosevelt's style is simple, direct and most readable— and through her accounts of other people she herself emerges as a most remarkable personality.

Carroll, Mrs. Gladys.
WEST OF THE HILL 1949

Dealing with the first two years in the married life of Molly and Brad in a small Maine community in the 1880's, the story opens as Molly waits one bitter winter dawn for Brad to come over the hill and rescue her from her dreary life of servitude as ward in her uncle's family. The hill and beyond stood for escape and life to the timid and articulate girl. With Brad a happier life is begun and as time passes she learns the meaning of the minister's words, "Love is of God; and everyone that loveth—knoweth God." In spite of the climax of a forest fire, the prevailing mood of the book is quiet and contemplative, an excellent antidote to the many novels of suspence and violence.

Sprigge, Elizabeth
THE STRANGE LIFE OF AUGUST STRINDBERG

As dramatist, poet, philosopher and scientist,Strindberg presents a complex picture to the biographer. Miss Sprigge is a versatile author, and theatrical producer as well, which adds to the value of her presentation of Strindberg, the dramatist. She has, also, a command of the Swedish language so that her researches have been fairly comprehensive, covering letters, diaries and other writings only recently made public. An outstanding value of this biography is that it tells the story of August Strindberg, in as unbiased and unsensational a fashion as such a story could be told; not as comprehensive as the biography of McGill published 19 years ago, she has not, as McGill did included an extensive analysis of his work.

Bolton, Isabel.
THE CRISTMAS TREE 1949

With her novel "Do I Wake Or Sleep", which appeared three years ago, Miss Bolton made her debut as an "artiste" among writers. Her particular talent as shown in this earlier book was a swift moving rhythmic style; a flowing stream of consciousness technique, as if all of the book were a single thought, and this flow had the quality of music with the whole of the book so patterned and excellently planned that it was like a small symphony. The plan and pattern were so subtle that the reader was mislead into a feeling that the author just sat down and wrote it off exactly as it came to her. But such ease and freeness of style are never attained without the greatest effort and concentration on the part of the author.

In the present novel we find again the perfection in choice of word, but less of the "flow" and seemed to us also, less warmth. The first third of the book is subjective in treatment and it is this sort of thing in which Miss Bolton excells. The latter part of the book is objective, more ordinary and less distinctive, but it is so of necessity, since what the author wishes to say here becomes broader in scope.

High School Jots

By JOAN ARNOLD

The Fremont Indians raced in just one point ahead of the Fighting Bucs Saturday to snatch the 1950 Santa Clara Valley Athletic League wrestling title with a 29 to 28 score.

San Jose Tech and Gilroy, each with 14 points, tied for third spot. The Santa Clara Panthers were right on their tails with 12 points.

Campbell belle, Darleen Mink reigned over the tournament. She was elected queen by the Campbell student body.

* * *

Darlene Mink and Lon Polk will star in the senior class presentation of "What a Life," a play by Clifford Goldsmith.

This is a hilarious comedy about everyday school life, typical teachers, and an average boy named Henry Aldrich, who is always getting into scrapes.

Many complications arise when Henry starts swooning over Barbara (Darlene Mink). There are laughs galore! ! ! There is fun for all! ! ! Be sure and come!

Play nights are Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11. Admission is only 75c. If you want your seats reserved ahead of time, tickets can be purchased from any senior.

* * *

Sixteen new class officers have been elected for the spring semester.

The senior cabinet includes: George Ingram, president; Don Morley, vice-president, and Joyce Velander, secretary.

Girl's Jinx, one of Campbell's old traditions, will be revived Friday night, March 24, in the form of a sports and comedy show in the gym. High school girls and their parents are invited to attend the night affair. Chairman is Amy Nakagawa, who is being assisted by Julia Haggard and Fern Sharpe. Miss Haggard is in charge of entertainment while Miss Sharpe is sending invitations. Reports indicate top basketball and volleyball will perform along with a tumbling act by a group of freshman girls. Comedy acts will round out the show.

Safety posters can be seen in the halls around Campbell High this week. Posters contain messages such as "It's your life, why gamble, drive carefully", and "It's good to be on time, but it's better to be safe." This activity is part of a safety campaign for which students are being asked to write safety slogans. Friday, March 17, marks the final day of the slogan contest with faculty members acting as judges. To the winner goes a five dollar prize. Merchandise orders will be presented to other winners. In conjunction with the safety campaign, Mr. William Moore, managing director of the safety council in San Jose, addressed students Tuesday on the job of the safety council and traffic fatalalities. A safety motion picture was screened for the student audience.

Campbell High will be represented when the livestock show takes place in the spacious Cow Palace in San Francisco during the week of April 1 to 6. Bruce and Dick Abernathy, Frank Weltz, Mel Blue, Rolly Williams, Dick Farnham, Dick Chapman, Harley Thompson, Charles Gibbons and Artie Alvares are FFA members taking livestock to the exhibition

The Future Farmers held their annual father and son banquet on Wednesday night in Bucs' Cove. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Joe King, vice-president of the county FFA groups.

Tuesday night, March 21, is the night! On this date, the Spanish Club members will hold a barn dance box lunch. Scene of the affair will be the home of Virginia Newburg. Handling arrangements are Diane Mayo, Judy Snyder and Mrs. Barbara Edwards, adviser.

Campbell High School girls were active on the sports front this week. The Buc girls participated in two sports days, meeting San Jose High and Sequoia High in volleyball contests. Live Oak and Los Gatos invaded the local courts on Wednesday to battle the Campbellites in a volleyball sports day.

Campbell Cagers Win All-Star Spots On Valley B Team

Campbell High's sensational band of lightweight cagers, co-champions in the league race, are well represented on the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League 1950 All-Star basketball team presented last week in San Jose

Jack "Bear" Bray, the Buc's high-scoring center, captured a first string berth on the mythical lightweight squad. The junior player stands 5-10½ and is 17 years of age. Bray was a good ball handler and was a big factor in Campbell's fight to tie for the league crown with Mountain View.

Campbell also claimed three spots on the second B team selections. Frank Mantia won a forward post, while Hugh Bonds was selected as the second string center. David Baxter, Buccaneer guard, rounded out the trio by winning a guard position on the second aggregation.

Coach Bill Perry's scrapping lightweights ended their SCVAL schedule with a nifty 7 won and 1 loss record. Jack Bray, Frank Mantia, David Baxter and Hugh Bonds are four of the reasons for the Buc's sensational season.

William Riggall, Retired Farmer, Dies In San Jose

The deceased was a native of New York and had been a resident of Santa Clara Valley since 1904. After retiring, he lived at 1265 Bird Avenue in San Jose.

He is survived by a son, Ernest Riggall of San Jose. Funeral services were held February 28 in San Jose with interment at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Reading Classes Held At Cambrian By School Official

Three remedial reading classes for demonstration purpose at the Cambrian, Crittenden and Los Altos schools have been taught this month by Mrs. Bernice Saveker, general supervisor of Gilroy schools.

Mrs. Saveker makes use of the successful techniques for teaching remedial reading as developed by Mrs. Francis of San Luis Obispo.

Among those appreciating these demonstrations as helpful aids to their teachers in this field of work were Mr. Delos Bagby of Cambrian district, Mr. Seiler and Mr. Bridges of Whisman district and Mr. Egan and Mrs. Thompson of Los Altos district.

These school officials complimented Mrs. Saveker for her fine contributions.

Home Economics Teachers Meet Set For Campbell

Tuesday, March 28, will mark the date of a home economics teachers' workshop at Campbell Union Elementary School.

A pot-luck supper will commence at 5:30 p.m. with Miss Virginia Canale acting as hostess. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Adele Charlson and Mrs. Dorothy Miller of Campbell Union High School.

Exhibits of finished work in clothing and household classes will be on display at the affair. Teachers are urged to bring examples of class projects to the workshop. A tag containing the grade and school should be attached to each article.

Mrs. Virginia W. Karstedt, coordinator of home economics for county schools, will send out cards before the date of the teachers' workshop.

Walter J. Harmon Arrives In Japan

One of the most recent leatherneck arrivals at Yokosuka, Japan, from Guam was Private First Class Walter J. Harmon, 19, of Campbell.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harmon, 9 Gilman Avenue, he is serving as a guard with the Marine Barracks, U. S. Naval Fleet activities, in Japan.

A former student of Campbell High School, he first enlisted in the Marine Corps in September, 1948, in San Francisco. He arrived overseas in 1949.

Marine duties in Yokosuka include guarding and patrolling naval installations along with performing special military operational tasks within the naval area under occupational regulations. The leathernecks also maintain the military police unit within the city of Yokosuka.

THE EASTER SEAL BOY — This smiling youngster is eight-year old Bradford Da Pont of Glenwood, California, whose happy countenance typifies the aims and aspirations of the Society for Crippled Children in this county. Support for the treatment of thousands of handicapped youngsters comes through the public's contributions to the Society's annual Easter Seal campaign, running this year from March 9 to April 9. The Society's 1950 slogan is "Help Crippled Children," and the public can do that by accepting and using Easter Seals.

Tonight Heralds Opening Night Of High School Play

Tonight marks the opening curtain of the Campbell High School senior play, "What A Life," which will be presented on the stage of the high school auditorium starting at 8 o'clock. The production also will be staged Saturday evening.

Clifford Goldsmith's play is a story of school life and the comclications that follow when Henry Aldrich asks Barbara Pherson to a dance. Lon Polk portrays Aldrich, while Darlene Mink is cast as Miss Pearson.

Drama Teacher Kenneth Wallace is the director of this humorous play. Talented student performers have concluded rehearsals sessions and are ready to don grease paint for the opening show.

Tickets for the student show may be purchased at the door.

James Taylor Ends Overseas Duty

The recent return of Navy Patrol Squadron 42 to San Diego, Calif., from the Pacific forward area, ended a tour of overseas duty for James Taylor, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor of Route 2, Campbell.

The squadron's own seaplanes were used in the transfer of flight personnel, flying the 5875-mile ocean expanse from Saipan to the West Coast. Squadron ground forces arrived in San Diego aboard the Navy's huge four-engine flying boat, "Caroline Mars."

Using the once Jap-held island of Saipan as headquarters, PatRon 42 had patrolled seaplanes between the atoll, Japan and the Philippines since last July. Special detachments were maintained in Yokosuka, Japan, and Sangley Point, P.I., to assist in servicing squadron aircraft on duty in those areas.

Basically an anti-submarine squadron, a flying courier service to Hong Kong and as far south as Borneo was added to the regular flight schedules.

The squadron will fly regular patrols along the California coast.

Sutter and Cook Take Big Ling Haul

One of the largest such catches ever taken in the waters off Santa Cruz by two men was the string of nine ling cod hauled in recently by Jimmy Sutter of Campbell and E. W. Cook, Saratoga sportsman. The catch, which created a mild sensation on the waterfront, was estimated at a total of 160 to 180 pounds, with the largest fish weighing 25 pounds and the smallest around 10 pounds.

They took their haul about three miles out, using a small boat rented from Ed J. Twohig. The pair used their own outboard motor. Sardines were used for the bait fishing. Twohig got the thanks of the pair for his part in obliging with the necessary information about the fishing conditions.

Sutter and Cook used Coast and Geodetic Survey maps. They said they were fortunate to have hit a spot where the lings were feeding.

Campbell Woman Displays New Camellia Flower

The Grace Burkhard, a light pink, white-edged camellia, developed and propogated by Burkhard Camellia Gardens at Campbell, was displayed at the Camellia Society's annual show held in the Ford Motor Sales Company rooms, 375 S. Market Street, San Jose, Sunday, March 5.

The Grace Burkhard flower, a sport of the Chandleri Camellia, is causing something of a furore nationally. Two other camellia specialists claim identical mutations. One is being marketed under the name of C. M. Wilson, a Florida grower; and another will soon be marketed under the name of William B. Smythe by a Ross, California, nursery.

Camellia authorities are of the opinion that the honor of having originated the unusual flower rightfully belongs to Mrs. Grace Burkhard, who has been growing the "pink beauty' for at least five years in her Campbell nursery.

Announces Study Of Gnat Problem

Dr. W. Elwyn Turner, Santa Clara County Health Official, announces a complete study of the Cupertino-Monte Vista black gnat problem to be carried out by the State Department of Public Health with the cooperation of the County department. Douglas J. Gould, Parasitologist witn the State Department will establish headquarters at the Sunnyvale branch office of the County Health Department shortly after the first of March. This office is in the city hall annex.

The gnat "Leptoconops" has been a scourge in the Cupertino area for some years. The unfed gnats are voracious and fearless and cannot be frightened away from the man or animal upon which they are preparing to feed. Itching about the bites commonly is intense for about a five day period. In many instances it has been impossible for men or teams to go out mto the orchard area when the gnats are swarming. Very little is known about the breeding habits of the gnat and no positive control measures have been determined.

It is proposed to continue the local studies, for several years if necessary, until the mystery surrounding the life cycle of the insect has been solved. It is proposed to take a great number of soil samples from areas where breeding is suspected, and, in the laboratory, attempt to locate egg, larva, and puppa specimens. It is anticipated that much valuable information will be obtained through the cooperation of the residents in the gnat infested areas. Each resident is urged to notify Gould at the Sunnyvale office when he first observes these gnats. From this information it is hoped that flight patterns may be developed which will assist in locating breeding areas.

Veterans Urged To Check Insurance Policy Beneficiary

The recent U. S. Supreme Court decision reaffirming a veteran's right to choose the beneficiary of his National Service Life Insurance despite California community property laws should serve as a reminder to veterans in Santa Clara County to check the beneficiary designation on their NSLI policy.

This is the counsel of the Santa Clara County Veterans Service Officer who has been trying to get across to veterans the importance of such a checkup in order to avoid difficulties and even hardships on the part of his surviving dependents in case of his death.

In the California (Stanislaus County) case, a veteran had designated his parents as beneficiaries of his NSLI. His widow, from whom he had been separated, claimed half the insurance payments on the ground that the premiums had been paid out of community property. The California courts ruled in her favor, but the highest Federal tribunal held that Congress intended the veteran's choice of beneficiary to be binding as far as Government insurance was concerned.

While parallels to that case are rare, John W. Davis said, the reverse is true in a number of instances. Some veterans have married and even acquired children without taking steps to change the beneficiary designation on their NSLI to their new dependents, he observed. These veterans were advised to call at 226 N. Market Street, San Jose, for information and assistance in completing the necessary forms, or about any matters in connection with their NSLI.

Grangers Hear Tax Problems Stated By Jos. McKinnon

Orchard City Grange members meeting in the IOOF hall this month heard an interesting detailed talk by Supervisor Joseph M. McKinnon on the county taxation problem. Of special interest was the explanation of how the county tax rate is based on the budget, which is made on detailed budgets from each department submitted on or before July 10 of each year.

The auditor then compiles the separate budgets into the master budget to reveal what was spent in each department in the last fiscal year. To be taken into account while making up the master budget is the tendency of department heads to pad their budget. When the master budget is made up, and before July 20, the auditor presents the budget to the Supervisors, whose duty it is to know the work load in each office.

Each department head is given a chance to justify his work load and the Supervisors have a free hand in granting or denying appropriations. Copies of the budget are available to taxpayers and any taxpayer is eligible to speak for or against any appropriation. McKinnon stated that many times pressure groups want budget increases for selfish reasons, and he has, by his vote, defeated budget increases.

McKinnon went on to say that many salary or department increases are asked for on the pleas that there are greater problems now that justify more help from the budget. "However," McKinnon stated, "I feel that while more problems are being handled by the county, simplified work methods and better means of communication have reduced the working time per problem so that more problems can be handled with the same money and time."

WELFARE MONEY

A great deal of county money goes to charity, with $30,000 a month for 6,000 Old Age Security and Child Welfare cases being paid out and another $20,000 going on excess need cases.

But, McKinon said, another $100,000 a month is being paid out for indigent poor, and this sum comes entirely from the county taxpayers. Efforts are being made now by the County Board of Supervisors and the Welfare Commission to cut down this sum by discovering the dishonest persons on the relief rolls who spend welfare funds for luxuries instead of necessities. By giving the indigent cases cash for a short period it will be possible to weed out honest from the dishonest persons, with the end result being that the honest cases will continue to receive cash for their necessities, and so reduce the sums needed for the carrying out of the welfare work.

CHARTER DRAPED

During the meeting the charter was draped for Mrs. Mina Gordon, former Grange chaplain. A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scholz who are traveling in England, France, Spain and Morocco.

There will be a first and second degree initiation on March 14 and 28 with musical entertainment scheduled for the March 14 meeting.

Members of the grange voted to raffle off a pig in the near future in conjunction with the Future Farmer program. Also voted upon was a resolution to keep the Tehachapi Women's Penitentiary where it is.

Honored guests present included Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Markham representing the State Grange News. A pot luck dinner was served before opening of the Grange meeting.

S. J. High Senior Wins 13th District Oratorical Contest

Charlotte Allen, 17-year-old San Jose High School senior, triu[m]ed over four contestants to win the 13th district American Legion Oratorical Contest held recently in Campbell High School auditorium.

Representing Memory Post of San Jose, Miss Allen won the right to represent the 13th district in the area contest in San Francisco on Saturday, March 11. Winner of the area contest will advance to the State finals to compete for participation in the national oratorical contest.

Second place honors at the session went to Carolyn Frisbie, representing Monterey Peninsula Post 41. The other contestants were Sharon Peterson, Campbell Post 596; Basil Willett, Santa Cruz Post 64; and Gloria Silva, San Jose Post 89.

Judges at the contest were Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina of San Jose, Helen Campen Hall of the San Jose State College Speech Department and the Rev. Edward J. Shipsey, S.J., of University of Santa Clara English Department.

S. F. Agency Wins Bidding To Finance Sewer Laying

In spirited bidding to purchase $400,000 worth of bonds to finance sewer construction in County Sanitation District 4, the William R. Staats Company, San Francisco investment agency, won the bidding by a mere $23 dollars. The sanitation district takes in Campbell, Los Gatos and Saratoga.

Because the margin of victory was so close, the representative of the winner had arrived at Menlo Park on his way back to San Francisco, thinking the Bank of America had won the purchase. Some rapid calculating led to this assumption.

After an $11 premium, Staats' net offer was $577,089, while the Bank of America Company's offer was $577,111, which included a $139 premium. Offer from the R. H. Moulton Company of San Francisco was $583,674 with a $1 token premium.

Bids were opened at a special session rencetly of the Board of Supervisors in the old County Board of Education rooms in the Hall of Records.

POPULAR RECORDS

I heartily echo Dinah Shore's sentiments in her new aria- IT'S SO NICE TO HAVE A MAN AROUND THE HOUSE (Col. 38-689). Dinah sings in her usual velvety style and accompaniment is adequate but unobstructive.

The zither dither is growing daily. It all started from a new British motion picture called The Third Man in which all the background music was performed by one hitherto unknown, Anton Karas on the zither. You can have this unusual music direct from the sound track on the London lable. I suppose the dyed-in-the wool Lombardo fans will want this Third Man Theme as played by Guy (Decca 24839). Don't be deceived, Guy's zither is only a guitar.

A hot novelty number with a merry bounce is IF I KNEW YOU WERE COMIN' I'D'VE BAKED A CAKE (Mercury 5392). Eileen Barton's singing is sensational, there is a chorus chanting in the background plus some fond clapping to add to the merriment.

One of my earliest memories of recorded music is a group of selections from Victor Herbert's THE RED MILL. We lived in a small town in the San Joaquin Valley and bought our records in a package deal from New York. Fifty assorted records at a time. It was like Christmas whenever we got a box because we never knew what would be in it. The prize box was the one containing selections from THE RED MILL. That is why I have welcomed a new Long-Playing disc from Decca DL 8016 containing SELECTIONS FROM THE RED MILL and on the other side selections from Sigmund Romberg's UP IN CENTRAL PARK. These are songs I never tire of, especially when they are as well done as they are here.

CHILDREN'S RECORDS: If you are looking for something in a children's record that isn't too hard to take at six a.m., try Bob Hannon's SONGS FOR LITTLE FOLKS. This is a collection of the familiar classics with lyrics that will appeal to the youngsters. You may find it a little startling at first to hear about My Tiny Two-Wheel Scooter to the tune of Humoresque, but after the first dozen hearings you get used to it. If the children play their own records, the 78rpm version is best (Mercury MMP-5M). If you play the records for them, by all means get the Long-Playing version (Mercury MG-30,000) and save yourself the bother of changing the records. Incidentally this is an excellent way to introduce the classics to the small fry.

CLASSICAL RECORDS: Robert Schuman declared almost one hundred years ago: "To Johann Sebastian Bach music owes as great a debt as does a religion to its founder." This year marks the two hundredth anniversary of the great master's death and all the record companies are releasing choice items from this great genius's vast storehouse of musical treasures.

To me THE PASSACAGLIA AND FUGUE is one of the most emotionally satisfying selections in all musical literature. The release on the gaily colored '45rpm' disc is definitely superior to one on the '78rpm' both in tone quality and clarity, but then the 45's are always superior to their 78 counterparts.

All serious piano students have spent many a long hour struggling with the Preludes and Fugues in Bach's WELL TEMPERED CLAVIER but Wanda Landowska moves through them so easily that they become a new thing of beauty. The edition she uses is different in spots than either of the two editions I own, especially in the location of some of the embellishments and I can't help but wonder at the reason for some of her retards. I would say that this album is definitely a must for all advanced piano students.

THE SUITE NO. 3 IN D MAJOR contains the 'air' mistakenly known as "The Air for the G String". It was the violinist Wilhelmj who first started the transposing of this lovely melody a ninth lower and playing it with sentimental effusion. It sounds very different played with clean cut astringent quality instead of the drippy sentimentality that we so often hear.

World of Poetry Talk Presented by College Teacher

Dr. Mary Grace Hamilton, of the speech and literature departments at San Jose State College, presented an interesting talk to the Country Woman's Club of Campbell Monoday, February 27.

Her topic, "Fashions of Beauty in the World of Poetry," covered outstanding examples of the works of great poets from before the time of Christ to the poets of modern times. Dr. Hamilton stressed that great poetry is moving mainly due to its simplicity.

Mrs. Ray Price of the Campbell Garden Club explained that organization's project of planting numerous cherry trees in the parking strips throughout Campbell and requested cooperation from the women of the country club. Mrs. Smith of the San Jose Volunteer Service Bureau lectured on volunteer work in that community. She suggested that women with the time and interest for volunteer work contact her organization on Tuesdays and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the YWCA.

Entertainment at the gathering featured two violin numbers by Gilda Mazzanti, Campbell High School student. Her solo presentations were "The Arkansas Traveler" and "Orientale." Jolene Howard played the piano accompaniment.

Rosemary Magnasco, a Campbell High student, rendered two piano selections, "Romance," and "The Waltzing Doll." Clubrooms were beautifully decorated with numerous spring flowers artistically arranged.

Chairman for the affair was Mrs. C. E. Fagalde, who was assisted by Mrs. M. E. Carlson, Mrs. James Gleed, Mrs. Luella Ryan, Mrs. Ida Price and Mrs. G. S. Robson.

Vets Close Minds In Fighting Hoover Report, Says Att'y.

Those veteran groups still opposing recommendations of the Hoover Report concerning the Veterans Administration are entirely within their rights, but if they continue to close their minds to the real facts they will do a disservice to themselves and the people they are trying to help.

The above statement was made yesterday by Attorney Robert Beressford, chairman of the Santa Clara County Citizens Committee on the Hoover Report, who said he had noted with satisfaction that the American Veterans Committee has come out strongly for the Hoover plan.

"Despite airing of pros and cons in the controversy between San Jose Junioor Chamber of Commerce spokesmen and leaders of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts, some of these local veteran groups remain adamant in defending the Veterans Administration and apparently will not face the record of its inefficiency," Beresford stated.

"For example, V. A. takes 80 days to process the insurance claims of a veteran's widow, while private companies settle 70% to 82% of such claims within 15 days. Employes of private life insurance companies each handle four times as many comparable transactions as a V. A. employe."

Beresford contended that "in their zeal to defend the Veterans Administration these groups unwittingly are aiding special interests in their efforts to torpedo the Hoover plan."

He said that Congressmen are receiving large amounts of mail from a "vociferous minority with axes to grind" and that those who wish to see governmental expenses reduced should get busy and write their Senators and Representatives in Congress.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California).

During the not so merry month of March, most all of those good people who have not previously paid their federal income taxes for the past year will run smack into a deadline. After the 15th of March, Uncle Sam will send out delinquency notices.

That is not all, however. Every day and every hour of every year is tax time, too. Uncle Sam gets his cut from users of gasoline, transportation and communications; from movie and play goers; from purchasers of baby oil and automobile batteries; and from all who pay for hundreds of other services and articles.

What does Uncle Sam do with all his money? Actually the old gentleman could not say for sure himself.

During the year 1948, however, the federal government collected some 40 billion dollars from the people of America Of that amount, thirteen per cent was returned to the states as grants-in-aid. The other 87 per cent went for Federal Government expenditures.

A great deal of money which the Federal Government collects and either spends itself or doles out in state grant-in-aid is collected on the theory that the Federal Government can spend the peoples money better than the state governments—or better than the individuals themselves.

By and large, federal aid to the states is a myth. As explained by Oscar A. Trippet, Vice President of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, "it is principally a process whereby the Federal Government collects the money from the citizens of each state, deducts some for administrative costs, and re-distributes it to the states.

"This process" Trippet declares, "adds more administrative costs, reduces the tax base available to the states, separates the collector (the U.S.) from the spender (the State), creates the illusion of 'something for nothing' and encourages excessive spending by all levels of government."

Trippet concludes: "The rapid growth of Federal aid is evidence itself that this device is carrying us toward more federalization and the loss of State and local government control. In the last 25 years direct Federal grants to the States have grown from about $100 million to the current annual rate of more than $2 billion.

"Federal grants to the State of California now total over $163 million annually, which is over four times the pre-war rate."

Yet it is a fact that of all the money paid to the Federal Government by the people of California, only 12 per cent finds its way back to the state. Nor is the California situation an exception.

What happens to the rest of the money?

In it's drive to bring home to the public the fantastic waste and extravagance of the Federal Government as exposed by the Hoover Commission, the California State Junior Chamber of Commerce has provided some interesting examples of the manner in which some federal funds are spent.

For instance, the Chamber reports, some of the money goes to "enable the national government to publish a few books—84,000 to be exact. Here are some of the enlightening titles: How to trap cats, how to get rid of bats in belfries, recipes for frying muskrat in wine, the economic status of the bandtailed pigeon, Moby Dick, how to tell the sex of a watermellon, care of parrots, the love life of the frog and how to feed and care for squirrels."

The government, however, does not just print the books. It pays for the research, too. The Junior Chamber points to the booklet on how to tell the sex of a watermellon and states that "more than 1000 square feet of filing space in Washington is occupied by statistics dealing with this gardener's Kinsey Report."

It makes little or no difference whether or not there are many people in the United States interested in the activities of watermellons or muskrats. That is the way the Government spends the money.

All this is something to think about, however, when paying income taxes, There are many things the Federal Government should and must do. Still, Uncle Sam could save the people a lot of money—if they would insist that he do it.
